

The INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ACT, 1947

BARE ACT

Corrida Legal presents the Bare Act Series, sourced from official texts and supported with an executive summary designed to help readers grasp the essence of the law with ease.

NOTE:

An Executive Summary of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 is included towards the end of this document, right after the full bare act of the statute. This summary helps professionals, business owners, compliance officers, HR managers, legal practitioners, and students quickly understand the key provisions relating to the investigation and settlement of industrial disputes, rights and duties of employers and workmen, procedures for strikes and lockouts, establishment of works committees and labour courts, retrenchment and lay-off regulations, unfair labour practices, penalties for non-compliance, and enforcement mechanisms, without having to read the entire text.

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 Summary provides a clear, practical, and time-saving guide for anyone looking to understand India's industrial relations framework, ensure statutory compliance in dispute resolution, manage workforce conflicts effectively, and stay aligned with regulatory requirements under the Industrial Disputes Act bare act.

Insertion of new Chapter II-B in Central Act XIV of 1947.- After section 9B of the principal Act, the following new Chapter shall be inserted, namely:-

"CHAPTER II-B

Registration of Unions.

9C. Maintenance of register.-It shall be the duty of the Registrar to maintain in such form as may be prescribed a register of Unions registered by him under the provisions of this Act.

9D. Application for Registration.-Any Union which has for the whole of the period of three months next preceding the date of its so applying under this section a membership of not less than fifteen per cent. of the total number of workmen employed in unit of an industry may apply in the prescribed form to the Registrar for registration as a Representative Union.

9E. Registration of Union.-On receipt of an application from a Union for registration under section 9D and on payment of the fee prescribed, the Registrar shall, if, after holding such inquiry as he deems fit, he comes to the conclusion that the conditions requisite for registration specified in the said section are satisfied and that the Union is not otherwise disqualified for registration, enter the name of the Union in the appropriate register maintained under section 9C and issue a certificate of registration in such form as may be prescribed:

Provided that-

(i) where two or more Unions fulfilling the conditions necessary for registration under this Act apply for registration in respect of the same unit of an industry, the Union having the largest membership of employees employed in the unit of the industry shall be registered; and

(ii) the Registrar shall not register any Union if he is satisfied that the application for its registration is not made bona fide in the interest of the workmen but is made in the interest of the employers to the prejudice of the interest of the workmen.

9F. Cancellation of registration.-The Registrar shall cancel the registration of a Union-

(a) if, after holding such inquiry, if any, as he deems fit he is satisfied-

(i) that it was registered under mistake, misrepresentation or fraud; or

(ii) that the membership of the Union has for a continuous period of three months fallen below the minimum required under section 9D for its registration:

Provided that where a strike or a closure not being an illegal strike or closure under this Act in a unit of industry involving more than one-third of the workmen in the unit of the industry has extended to a period exceeding fourteen days in any calendar month, such month shall be excluded in computing the said period of three months:

Provided further that the registration of a Union shall not be cancelled under the provisions of this sub-clause unless its membership at the time of the cancellation is less than such minimum; or

(iii) that the registered Union is being conducted not bona fide in the interests of workmen but in the interests of employers to the prejudice of the interests of workmen; or

(iv) that it has instigated, aided or assisted the commencement or continuance of an illegal strike;

(b) if its registration under the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926 (Central Act XVI of 1926) is cancelled.

9G. Registration of another Union in place of existing registered Union.-(1) If at any time any Union (hereinafter in this section referred to as "applicant Union") makes an application to the Registrar for being registered in place of the Union (hereinafter in this section referred to as "representative Union") for a unit of an industry on the ground that it has a larger membership of workmen employed in such unit of the industry, the Registrar shall call upon the representative Union by a notice in writing to show cause within one month of the receipt of such notice why the applicant Union should not be registered in its place. An application made under this sub-section shall be accompanied by such fee as may be prescribed.

(2) The Registrar shall forward to the Labour Commissioner of the State Government a copy of the said application and notice.

(3) If, on the expiry of the period of notice under sub-section (1) and after holding such inquiry as he deems fit, the Registrar comes to the conclusion that the applicant Union complies with the conditions necessary for registration specified in section 9D and that its membership was during the whole of the period of three months immediately preceding the date of the application under this section larger than the membership of the representative Union, he shall, subject to the provisions of section 9D, register the applicant Union in place of the representative Union.

(4) Every application made under this section shall be published in the prescribed manner not less than fourteen days before the expiry of the period of notice under sub-section (1).

9H. Application for re-registration.-(1) Any Union the registration of which has been cancelled on the ground that it was registered under a mistake or on the ground specified in sub-clause (ii) of clause (a) of section 9F may, at any time after three months from the date of such cancellation and on payment of such fees as may be prescribed, apply for re-registration. The provisions of sections 9D and 9E shall apply in respect of such application.

(2) A Union the registration of which has been cancelled on any other ground shall, not, save with the permission of the State Government, be entitled to apply for re-registration.

9I. Appeal to Industrial Tribunal from order of Registrar.-(1) Any party to a proceeding before, the Registrar may, within thirty days from the date of an order passed by the Registrar under this Chapter, appeal against such order to the Industrial Tribunal:

Provided that the Industrial Tribunal may, for sufficient reason, admit any appeal made after the expiry of such period.

(2) The Industrial Tribunal may admit an appeal under sub-section (1) if on a perusal of the memorandum of appeal and the decision appealed against it finds that the decision is contrary to law or otherwise erroneous.

(3) The Industrial Tribunal in appeal, may confirm, modify or rescind any order passed by the Registrar and may pass such consequential orders as it may deem fit. A copy of the orders passed by the Industrial Tribunal, shall be sent to the Registrar.

9J. Publication of orders.—Every order passed under section 9E or section 9F or section 9G and every order passed in appeal under section 9I shall be published in the prescribed manner."
[Vide Rajasthan Act 34 of 1958, s. 5]

4. Conciliation officers.—(1) The appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint such number of persons as it thinks fit, to be conciliation officers, charged with the duty of mediating in and promoting the settlement of industrial disputes.

(2) A conciliation officer may be appointed for a specified area or for specified industries in a specified area or for one or more specified industries and either permanently or for a limited period.

5. Board of Conciliation.—(1) The appropriate Government may as occasion arises by notification in the Official Gazette constitute a Board of Conciliation for promoting the settlement of an industrial dispute.

(2) A Board shall consist of a chairman and two or four other members, as the appropriate Government thinks fit.

(3) The chairman shall be an independent person and the other members shall be persons appointed in equal numbers to represent the parties to the dispute and any person appointed to represent a party shall be appointed on the recommendation of that party:

Provided that, if any party fails to make a recommendation as aforesaid within the prescribed time, the appropriate Government shall appoint such persons as it thinks fit to represent that party.

(4) A Board, having the prescribed quorum, may act notwithstanding the absence of the chairman or any of its members or any vacancy in its number:

Provided that if the appropriate Government notifies the Board that the services of the chairman or of any other member have ceased to be available, the Board shall not act until a new chairman or member, as the case may be, has been appointed.

6. Courts of Inquiry.—(1) The appropriate Government may as occasion arises by notification in the Official Gazette constitute a Court of Inquiry for inquiring into any matter appearing to be connected with or relevant to an industrial dispute.

(2) A Court may consist of one independent person or of such number of independent persons as the appropriate Government may think fit and where a Court consists of two or more members, one of them shall be appointed as the chairman.

(3) A Court, having the prescribed quorum, may act notwithstanding the absence of the chairman or any of its members or any vacancy in its number:

Provided that, if the appropriate Government notifies the Court that the services of the chairman have ceased to be available, the Court shall not act until a new chairman has been appointed.

National Tribunals.—(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, constitute one or more National Industrial Tribunals for the adjudication of industrial disputes which, in the opinion of the Central Government, involve questions of national importance or are of such a nature that industrial establishments situated in more than one State are likely to be interested in, or affected by, such disputes.

(2) A National Tribunal shall consist of one person only to be appointed by the Central Government.

(3) A person shall not be qualified for appointment as the presiding officer of a National Tribunal¹[unless he is, or has been, a Judge of a High Court].

(4) The Central Government may, if it so thinks fit, appoint two persons as assessors to advise the National Tribunal in the proceeding before it.

7C. Disqualifications for the presiding officers of Labour Courts, Tribunals and National Tribunals. —No person shall be appointed to, or continue in, the office of the presiding officer of a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, if—

(a) he is not an independent person; or

(b) he has attained the age of sixty-five years.]

²[7D. Qualifications, terms and conditions of service of Presiding Officer.—Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the qualifications, appointment, term of office, salaries and allowances, resignation and removal and other terms and conditions of service of the Presiding Officer of the Industrial Tribunal appointed by the Central Government under sub-section (1) of section 7A, shall, after the commencement of ³[the Tribunals Reforms Act, 2021, be governed by the provisions of Chapter II of the said Act]:

Provided that the Presiding Officer appointed before the commencement of Part XIV of Chapter VI of the Finance Act, 2017, shall continue to be governed by the provisions of this Act, and the rules made thereunder as if the provisions of section 184 of the Finance Act, 2017 had not come into force.]

⁴[8. Filling of vacancies.—If, for any reason a vacancy (other than a temporary absence) occurs in the office of the presiding officer of a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal or in the office of the chairman or any other member of a Board or Court, then, in the case of a National Tribunal, the Central Government and in any other case, the appropriate Government, shall appoint another person in accordance with the provisions of this Act to fill the vacancy, and the proceeding may be continued before the Labour Court, Tribunal, National Tribunal, Board or Court, as the case may be, from the stage at which the vacancy is filled.

9. Finality of orders constituting Boards, etc.—(1) No order of the appropriate Government or of the Central Government appointing any person as the chairman or any other member of a Board or Court or as the presiding officer of a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal shall be called in question in any manner; and no act or proceeding before any Board or Court shall be called in question in any manner

1. Subs. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 5, for certain words (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

2. Ins. by Act 7 of 2017, s. 158 (w.e.f. 26-5-2017).

3. Subs. by Act 33 of 2021, s. 8, for “Part XIV of Chapter VI of the Finance Act, 2017 (7 of 2017), be governed by the provisions of section 184 of that Act” (w.e.f. 4-4-2021).

4. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 5, for sections 8 and 9 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

on the ground merely of the existence of any vacancy in, or defect in the constitution of, such Board or Court.

(2) No settlement arrived at in the course of a conciliation proceeding shall be invalid by reason only of the fact that such settlement was arrived at after the expiry of the period referred to in sub-section (6) of section 12 or sub-section (5) of section 13, as the case may be.

(3) Where the report of any settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceeding before a Board is signed by the chairman and all the other members of the Board, no such settlement shall be invalid by reason only of the casual or unforeseen absence of any of the members (including the chairman) of the Board during any stage of the proceeding.]

NOTICE OF CHANGE

9A. Notice of change.—No employer, who proposes to effect any change in the conditions of service applicable to any workman in respect of any matter specified in the Fourth Schedule, shall effect such change,—

(a) without giving to the workmen likely to be affected by such change a notice in the prescribed manner of the nature of the change proposed to be effected; or

(b) within twenty-one days of giving such notice:

Provided that no notice shall be required for effecting any such change—

(a) where the change is effected in pursuance of any ²[settlement or award]; or

(b) where the workmen likely to be affected by the change are persons to whom the Fundamental and Supplementary Rules, Civil Services (Classification, Control and Appeal) Rules, Civil Services (Temporary Service) Rules, Revised Leave Rules, Civil Service Regulations, Civilians in Defence Services (Classification, Control and Appeal) Rules or the Indian Railway Establishment Code or any other rules or regulations that may be notified in this behalf by the appropriate Government in the Official Gazette, apply.

9B. Power of Government to exempt.—Where the appropriate Government is of opinion that the application of the provisions of section 9A to any class of industrial establishments or to any class of workmen employed in any industrial establishment affect the employers in relation thereto so prejudicially that such application may cause serious repercussion on the industry concerned and that public interest so requires, the appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that the provisions of the said section shall not apply or shall apply, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the notification, to that class of industrial establishments or to that class of workmen employed in any industrial establishment.]

GRIEVANCE REDRESSAL MACHINERY

9C. Setting up of Grievance Redressal Machinery.—(1) Every industrial establishment employing twenty or more workmen shall have one or more Grievance Redressal Committee for the resolution of disputes arising out of individual grievances.

(2) The Grievance Redressal Committee shall consist of equal number of members from the employer and the workmen.

(3) The chairperson of the Grievance Redressal Committee shall be selected from the employer and from among the workmen alternatively on rotation basis every year.

(4) The total number of members of the Grievance Redressal Committee shall not exceed more than six:

Provided that there shall be, as far as practicable, one woman member if the Grievance Redressal Committee has two members and in case the number of members are more than two, the number of women members may be increased proportionately.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, the setting up of Grievance Redressal Committee shall not affect the right of the workman to raise industrial dispute on the same matter under the provisions of this Act.

1. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 6 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

2. Subs. by Act 24 of 2010, s. 6, for Chapter IIB (w.e.f. 15-9-2010).

3. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 7 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

(6) The Grievance Redressal Committee may complete its proceedings within thirty days on receipt of a written application by or on behalf of the aggrieved party.

(7) The workman who is aggrieved of the decision of the Grievance Redressal Committee may prefer an appeal to the employer against the decision of Grievance Redressal Committee and the employer shall, within one month from the date of receipt of such appeal, dispose off the same and send a copy of his decision to the workman concerned.

(8) Nothing contained in this section shall apply to the workmen for whom there is an established Grievance Redressal Mechanism in the establishment.]

CHAPTER III REFERENCE OF DISPUTES TO BOARDS, COURTS OR TRIBUNALS

10. Reference of disputes to Boards, Courts or Tribunals.—(1) ¹[Where the appropriate Government is of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended, it may at any time], by order in writing,—

(a) refer the dispute to a Board for promoting a settlement thereof; or

(b) refer any matter appearing to be connected with or relevant to the dispute to a Court for inquiry; or

²[(c) refer the dispute or any matter appearing to be connected with, or relevant to, the dispute, if it relates to any matter specified in the Second Schedule, to a Labour Court for adjudication; or

(d) refer the dispute or any matter appearing to be connected with, or relevant to, the dispute, whether it relates to any matter specified in the Second Schedule or the Third Schedule, to a Tribunal for adjudication:

Provided that where the dispute relates to any matter specified in the Third Schedule and is not likely to affect more than one hundred workmen, the appropriate Government may, if it so thinks fit, make the reference to a Labour Court under clause (c):]

³[Provided further that] where the dispute relates to a public utility service and a notice under section 22 has been given, the appropriate Government shall, unless it considers that the notice has been frivolously or vexatiously given or that it would be inexpedient so to do, make a reference under this sub-section notwithstanding that any other proceedings under this Act in respect of the dispute may have commenced:

⁴[Provided also that where the dispute in relation to which the Central Government is the appropriate Government, it shall be competent for that Government to refer the dispute to a Labour Court or an Industrial Tribunal, as the case may be, constituted by the State Government.]

⁵[(1A) Where the Central Government is of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended and the dispute involves any question of national importance or is of such a nature that industrial establishments situated in more than one State are likely to be interested in, or affected by, such dispute and that the dispute should be adjudicated by a National Tribunal, then, the Central Government may, whether or not it is the appropriate Government in relation to that dispute, at any time, by order in writing, refer the dispute or any matter appearing to be connected with, or relevant to, the dispute, whether it relates to any matter specified in the Second Schedule or the Third Schedule, to a National Tribunal for adjudication.]

(2) Where the parties to an industrial dispute apply in the prescribed manner, whether jointly or separately, for a reference of the dispute to a Board, Court, ⁶[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal], the appropriate Government, if satisfied that the persons applying represent the majority of each party, shall make the reference accordingly.

Provided that where such industrial dispute is connected with an individual workman, no such period shall exceed three months:

Provided further that where the parties to an industrial dispute apply in the prescribed manner, whether jointly or separately, to the Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal for extension of such period or for any other reason, and the presiding officer of such Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal considers it necessary or expedient to extend such period, he may for reasons to be recorded in writing, extend such period by such further period as he may think fit:

Provided also that in computing any period specified in this sub-section, the period, if any, for which the proceedings before the Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal had been stayed by any injunction or order of a Civil Court shall be excluded:

1. Subs. by Act 18 of 1952, s. 3, for “If any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended, the appropriate Government may”.

2. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 7, for clause (c) (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

3. Subs. by s. 7, ibid., for “Provided that” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

4. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 8 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

5. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 7 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

6. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 7, for “or Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

7. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 8 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

Provided also that no proceedings before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal shall lapse merely on the ground that any period specified under this sub-section had expired without such proceedings being completed.]

(3) Where an industrial dispute has been referred to a Board, ¹[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] under this section, the appropriate Government may by order prohibit the continuance of any strike or lock-out in connection with such dispute which may be in existence on the date of the reference.

(5) Where a dispute concerning any establishment or establishments has been, or is to be, referred to a ⁴[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] under this section and the appropriate Government is of opinion, whether on an application made to it in this behalf or otherwise, that the dispute is of such a nature that any other establishment, group or class of establishments of a similar nature is likely to be interested in, or affected by, such dispute, the appropriate Government may, at the time of making the reference or at any time thereafter but before the submission of the award, include in that reference such establishment, group or class of establishments, whether or not at the time of such inclusion any dispute exists or is apprehended in that establishment, group or class of establishments.]

⁵[(6) Where any reference has been made under sub-section (1A) to a National Tribunal, then notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, no Labour Court or Tribunal shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate upon any matter which is under adjudication before the National Tribunal, and accordingly,—

(a) if the matter under adjudication before the National Tribunal is pending a proceeding before a Labour Court or Tribunal, the proceeding before the Labour Court or the Tribunal, as the case may be, in so far as it relates to such matter, shall be deemed to have been quashed on such reference to the National Tribunal; and

(b) it shall not be lawful for the appropriate Government to refer the matter under adjudication before the National Tribunal to any Labour Court or Tribunal for adjudication during the pendency of the proceeding in relation to such matter before the National Tribunal.

⁶[Explanation.—In this sub-section, “Labour Court” or “Tribunal” includes any Court or Tribunal or other authority constituted under any law relating to investigation and settlement of industrial disputes in force in any State.]

(7) Where any industrial dispute, in relation to which the Central Government is not the appropriate Government, is referred to a National Tribunal, then notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, any reference in section 15, section 17, section 19, section 33A, section 33B and section 36A to the appropriate Government in relation to such dispute shall be construed as a reference to the Central Government but, save as aforesaid and as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, any reference in any other provision of this Act to the appropriate Government in relation to that dispute shall mean a reference to the State Government.]

⁷[(8) No proceedings before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal in relation to an industrial dispute shall lapse merely by reason of the death of any of the parties to the dispute being a workman, and such Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal shall complete such proceedings and submit its award to the appropriate Government.]

1. Ins. by Act 18 of 1952, s. 3.

2. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 7, for “a Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

3. Subs. by s. 7, ibid., for “the Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

4. Subs. by s. 7, ibid., for “Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

5. Ins. by s. 7, ibid. (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

6. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 5 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

7. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 8 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

STATE AMENDMENT

Karnataka

“(4A) Notwithstanding anything contained in the section 9C and in this section, in the case of a dispute falling within the scope of section 2A, the individual workman concerned may, within six months from the date of communication to him of the order of discharge, dismissal, retrenchment or termination or the date of commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Karnataka Amendment) Act, 1987, whichever is later, apply, in the prescribed manner, to the Labour Court for adjudication of the dispute and the Labour Court dispose of such application in the same manner as a dispute referred under sub-section (1).

Note.—An application under sub-section (4A), may be made even in respect of a dispute pending consideration of the Government for reference, on the date of commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Karnataka Amendment) Act, 1987.”

[Vide Karnataka Act 5 of 1988, s. 2]

¹[10A. Voluntary reference of disputes to arbitration.—(1) Where any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended and the employer and the workmen agree to refer the dispute to arbitration, they may, at any time before the dispute has been referred under section 10 to a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal, by a written agreement, refer the dispute to arbitration and the reference shall be to such person or persons (including the presiding officer of a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal) as an arbitrator or arbitrators as may be specified in the arbitration agreement.

²[(1A) Where an arbitration agreement provides for a reference of the dispute to an even number of arbitrators, the agreement shall provide for the appointment of another person as umpire who shall enter upon the reference, if the arbitrators are equally divided in their opinion, and the award of the umpire shall prevail and shall be deemed to be the arbitration award for the purposes of this Act.]

(2) An arbitration agreement referred to in sub-section (1) shall be in such form and shall be signed by the parties thereto in such manner as may be prescribed.

(3) A copy of the arbitration agreement shall be forwarded to the appropriate Government and the conciliation officer and the appropriate Government shall, within ³[one month] from the date of the receipt of such copy, publish the same in the Official Gazette.

²[(3A) Where an industrial dispute has been referred to arbitration and the appropriate Government is satisfied that the persons making the reference represent the majority of each party, the appropriate Government may, within the time referred to in sub-section (3), issue a notification in such manner as

1. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 8 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

2. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 6 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

3. Subs. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 6, for “fourteen days” (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

may be prescribed; and when any such notification is issued, the employers and workmen who are not parties to the arbitration agreement but are concerned in the dispute, shall be given an opportunity of presenting their case before the arbitrator or arbitrators.]

(4) The arbitrator or arbitrators shall investigate the dispute and submit to the appropriate Government the arbitration award signed by the arbitrator or all the arbitrators, as the case may be.

²[(4A) Where an industrial dispute has been referred to arbitration and a notification has been issued under sub-section (3A), the appropriate Government may, by order, prohibit the continuance of any strike or lock-out in connection with such dispute which may be in existence on the date of the reference.]

(5) Nothing in the Arbitration Act, 1940 (10 of 1940), shall apply to arbitration under this section.]

STATE AMENDMENT

Kerala

Insertion of new section 10B.—After section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Central Act 14 of 1947) (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), the following section shall be inserted, namely:-

“10B. Power to issue orders regarding terms and conditions of service pending settlement of disputes.— (1) Where an industrial dispute has been referred by the State Government to a Labour Court or Tribunal under sub-section (1) of section 10 and if, in the opinion of that Government, it is necessary or expedient so to do for securing the public safety or convenience or the maintenance of public order or supplies and services essential to the life of the community or for maintaining employment or industrial peace in the establishment concerning which such reference has been made, it may, by general or special order, make provision—

(a) for requiring the employers or workmen or both to observe such terms and conditions of employment as may be specified in the order or as may be determined in accordance with the order, including payment of money by the employer to any person who is or has been a workman;

(b) for requiring any public utility service not to close or remain closed and to work or continue to work on such terms and conditions as may be specified in the order; and

(c) for any incidental or supplementary matters which appear to it to be necessary or expedient for the purposes of the order:

Provided that no order made under this sub-section shall require any employer to observe terms and conditions of employment less favourable to the workmen than those which were applicable to them at any time within three months immediately preceding the date of the order.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this sub-section "public utility service" means—

Insertion of new section 10K. in Central Act 14 of 1947.—After section 10J of the principal Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely:-

“10K. State Government may lay down terms and conditions of employment and prohibit strikes, etc.- (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Act, if in the opinion of the State Government, it is necessary or expedient so to do, for securing the public safety or convenience or the maintenance of public order or supplies and services essential to the life of the community or for maintaining employment or maintaining industrial peace, it may by a general or special order, make provision-

(a) for requiring employers, workmen or both to observe for such period as may be specified in the order, such terms and conditions of employment as may be determined in accordance with the order; and

(b) for prohibiting, subject to the provision of the order, strikes or lockouts generally or a strike or lockout in connection with any industrial dispute.

(2) In case any industrial dispute is raised in respect of any provisions in the order of the State Government made under sub-section (1) within a period of three months of the order, it shall be referred by the State Government for adjudication to an Industrial Tribunal and the order shall lapse when the award of the Tribunal becomes enforceable:

Provided, however, that the reference of the industrial dispute to adjudication shall not have the effect of staying the operation of the order”.

[Vide Rajasthan Act 14 of 1970, s. 6]

Insertion of new Chapter III-A in Central Act XIV of 1947.- For section 10A of the principal Act, the following new Chapter shall be inserted, namely:-

"CHAPTER III-A.

Arbitration.

10B. Submission.-(1) Any employer and a Representative Union or, in the absence of any registered Representative Union, any other Union which is representative of employees may, by a written agreement, agree to submit any present or future industrial dispute or class of such disputes to the arbitration of any person whether such arbitrator is named in such agreement or not. Such agreement shall be called a submission.

(2) A copy of every such submission shall be sent to the Registrar who shall register it in the register to be maintained for the purpose and shall publish it in such manner as may be prescribed.

10C. Submission when revocable.-Every submission shall in the absence of any provision to the contrary contained therein be irrevocable:

Provided that a submission to refer future disputes to arbitration may at any time be revoked by any of the parties to such submission by giving the other party three months' notice in writing:

Provided further that, before the expiry of the said period of three months the parties may agree to continue the submission for such further period as may be agreed upon between them.

10D. Proceedings in arbitration.-The proceedings in arbitration under this Chapter shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Arbitration Act, 1940 (Central Act X of 1940) in so far as they are applicable and the powers which are exercisable by a Civil Court under the said provisions shall be exercisable by the Industrial Tribunal.

10E. Special case may be stated to Industrial Tribunal.- The arbitrator may refer any question of law arising before him in any proceeding under this Act to the Industrial Tribunal for its decision. Any award made by the arbitrator shall be in accordance with such decision.

10F, Award by arbitrator.-The arbitrator shall, after hearing the parties concerned, make an award which shall be signed by him.

10G. Dispute to be referred to Industrial Tribunal if no arbitrator appointed.-Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter, if no provision has been made in any submission for the appointment of an arbitrator or where by reason of any circumstances no arbitrator is appointed, such dispute may be referred by the State Government for adjudication by the Industrial Tribunal.

10H. State Government may refer industrial dispute to Industrial Tribunal for adjudication.-(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter the State Government may, at any time, refer an industrial dispute for adjudication by the Industrial Tribunal, if on a report made by the Conciliation . Officer or otherwise it is satisfied that-

(A) by reason of the continuance of the dispute-

(a) a serious outbreak of disorder or a breach of the public peace is likely to occur; or

(b) serious or prolonged hardship to a large section of the community is likely to be caused; or

(c) the industry concerned is likely to be seriously affected or the prospects and scope for employment therein curtailed; or,

(B) the dispute is not likely to be settled by other means; or

(C) it is necessary in the public interest to do so.

(2) When the State Government makes a reference to the Industrial Tribunal for adjudication of any industrial dispute, any submission or any award of an arbitrator with regard to that industrial dispute shall stand as cancelled.

10I. Notice of award to parties.- (1) The arbitrator or the Industrial Tribunal as an arbitrator, as the case may be, shall forward copies of the award made by him or it to the parties, the Commissioner of Labour, the Registrar and the State Government.

(2) On receipt of such award, the Registrar shall enter it in the register kept for the purpose.

10J. Completion of proceeding.- The arbitration proceeding shall be deemed to have completed when the award is published under section 17."

Provided that in any proceeding under this section the Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, as the case may be, shall rely only on the materials on record and shall not take any fresh evidence in relation to the matter.]

STATE AMENDMENT

Tamil Nadu

Insertion of new section 11-B—After section 11-A of the Industrial Disputes act, 1947 (Central Act XIV of 1947), the following section shall be inserted, namely:-

“11-B. Power of Labour Court or Tribunal to execute its award by decree- A Labour Court or a Tribunal shall have the power of a civil court to execute its own award as a decree of a civil court and also to execute any settlement as defined in clause (p) of section 2 as a decree.”

[Vide Tamil Nadu Act 45 of 2008, s. 2]

In section 11-B of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 for the expression “award” the expression “award and order” shall be substituted.

12. Duties of conciliation officers.—(1) Where any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended, the conciliation officer may, or where the dispute relates to a public utility service and a notice under section 22 has been given, shall hold conciliation proceedings in the prescribed manner.

(2) The conciliation officer shall, for the purpose of bringing about a settlement of the dispute, without delay, investigate the dispute and all matters affecting the merits and the right settlement thereof and may do all such things as he thinks fit for the purpose of inducing the parties to come to a fair and amicable settlement of the dispute.

(3) If a settlement of the dispute or of any of the matters in dispute is arrived at in the course of the conciliation proceedings the conciliation officer shall send a report thereof to the appropriate Government ²[or an officer authorised in this behalf by the appropriate Government] together with a memorandum of the settlement signed by the parties to the dispute.

(4) If no such settlement is arrived at, the conciliation officer shall, as soon as practicable after the close of the investigation, send to the appropriate Government a full report setting forth the steps taken by him for ascertaining the facts and circumstances relating to the dispute and for bringing about a settlement thereof, together with a full statement of such facts and circumstances, and the reasons on account of which, in his opinion, a settlement could not be arrived at.

(5) If, on a consideration of the report referred to in sub-section (4), the appropriate Government is satisfied that there is a case for reference to a Board, ³[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal], it may make such reference. Where the appropriate Government does not make such a reference it shall record and communicate to the parties concerned its reasons therefor.

1. Ins. by Act 45 of 1971, s. 3 (w.e.f. 15-12-1971).

2. Ins. by Act 35 of 1965, s. 4 (w.e.f. 1-12-1965).

3. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 10, for “or Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

(6) A report under this section shall be submitted within fourteen days of the commencement of the conciliation proceedings or within such shorter period as may be fixed by the appropriate Government:

¹[Provided that, ²[subject to the approval of the conciliation officer,] the time for the submission of the report may be extended by such period as may be agreed upon in writing by all the parties to the dispute.]

13. Duties of Board.—(1) Where a dispute has been referred to a Board under this Act, it shall be the duty of the Board to endeavour to bring about a settlement of the same and for this purpose the Board shall, in such manner as it thinks fit and without delay, investigate the dispute and all matters affecting the merits and the right settlement thereof and may do all such things as it thinks fit for the purpose of inducing the parties to come to a fair and amicable settlement of the dispute.

(2) If a settlement of the dispute or of any of the matters in dispute is arrived at in the course of the conciliation proceedings, the Board shall send a report thereof to the appropriate Government together with a memorandum of the settlement signed by the parties to the dispute.

(3) If no such settlement is arrived at, the Board shall, as soon as practicable after the close of the investigation, send to the appropriate Government a full report setting forth the proceedings and steps taken by the Board for ascertaining the facts and circumstances relating to the dispute and for bringing about a settlement thereof, together with a full statement of such facts and circumstances, its findings thereon, the reasons on account of which, in its opinion, a settlement could not be arrived at and its recommendations for the determination of the dispute.

(4) If, on the receipt of a report under sub-section (3) in respect of a dispute relating to a public utility service, the appropriate Government does not make a reference to a ³[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] under section 10, it shall record and communicate to the parties concerned its reasons therefor.

(5) The Board shall submit its report under this section within two months of the date ⁴[on which the dispute was referred to it] or within such shorter period as may be fixed by the appropriate Government:

Provided that the appropriate Government may from time to time extend the time for the submission of the report by such further periods not exceeding two months in the aggregate:

Provided further that the time for the submission of the report may be extended by such period as may be agreed on in writing by all the parties to the dispute.

14. Duties of Courts.—A Court shall inquire into the matters referred to it and report thereon to the appropriate Government ordinarily within a period of six months from the commencement of its inquiry.

⁵15. Duties of Labour Courts, Tribunals and National Tribunals.—Where an industrial dispute has been referred to a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal for adjudication, it shall hold its proceedings expeditiously and shall, ⁶[within the period specified in the order referring such industrial dispute or the further period extended under the second proviso to sub-section (2A) of section 10], submit its award to the appropriate Government.

16. Form of report or award.—(1) The report of a Board or Court shall be in writing and shall be signed by all the members of the Board or Court, as the case may be:

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent any member of the Board or Court from recording any minute of dissent from a report or from any recommendation made therein.

1. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 10 (w.e.f. 17-9-1956).

2. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 8 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

3. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 11, for “Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

4. Subs. by Act 40 of 1951, s. 6, for “of the notice under section 22”.

5. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 12, for sections 15, 16, 17 and 17A (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

6. Subs. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 10, for certain words (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

(2) The award of a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal shall be in writing and shall be signed by its presiding officer.

17. Publication of reports and awards.—(1) Every report of a Board or Court together with any minute of dissent recorded therewith, every arbitration award and every award of a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal shall, within a period of thirty days from the date of its receipt by the appropriate Government, be published in such manner as the appropriate Government thinks fit.

(2) Subject to the provisions of section 17A, the award published under sub-section (1) shall be final and shall not be called in question by any Court in any manner whatsoever.

17A. Commencement of the award.—(1) An award (including an arbitration award) shall become enforceable on the expiry of thirty days from the date of its publication under section 17:

Provided that—

(a) if the appropriate Government is of opinion, in any case where the award has been given by a Labour Court or Tribunal in relation to an industrial dispute to which it is a party; or

(b) if the Central Government is of opinion, in any case where the award has been given by a National Tribunal, that it will be inexpedient on public grounds affecting national economy or social justice to give effect to the whole or any part of the award, the appropriate Government, or as the case may be, the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare that the award shall not become enforceable on the expiry of the said period of thirty days.

(2) Where any declaration has been made in relation to an award under the proviso to sub-section (1), the appropriate Government or the Central Government may, within ninety days from the date of publication of the award under section 17, make an order rejecting or modifying the award, and shall, on the first available opportunity, lay the award together with a copy of the order before the Legislature of the State, if the order has been made by a State Government, or before Parliament, if the order has been made by the Central Government.

(3) Where any award as rejected or modified by an order made under sub-section (2) is laid before the Legislature of a State or before Parliament, such award shall become enforceable on the expiry of fifteen days from the date on which it is so laid; and where no order under sub-section (2) is made in pursuance of a declaration under the proviso to sub-section (1), the award shall become enforceable on the expiry of the period of ninety days referred to in sub-section (2).

(4) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (1) and sub-section (3) regarding the enforceability of an award, the award shall come into operation with effect from such date as may be specified therein, but where no date is so specified, it shall come into operation on the date when the award becomes enforceable under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3), as the case may be.]

Provided that where it is proved to the satisfaction of the High Court or the Supreme Court that such workman had been employed and had been receiving adequate remuneration during any such period or part thereof, the Court shall order that no wages shall be payable under this section for such period or part, as the case may be.]

18. Persons on whom settlements and awards are binding.—²[(1) A settlement arrived at by agreement between the employer and workman otherwise than in the course of conciliation proceeding shall be binding on the parties to the agreement.

1. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 11 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

2. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 13 (w.e.f. 7-10-1956).

(2) ¹[Subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), an arbitration award] which has become enforceable shall be binding on the parties to the agreement who referred the dispute to arbitration.]

²[(3)] A settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceedings under this Act ³[or an arbitration award in a case where a notification has been issued under sub-section (3A) of section 10A] or ⁴[an award ⁵[of a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] which has become enforceable] shall be binding on—

- (a) all parties to the industrial dispute;
- (b) all other parties summoned to appear in the proceedings as parties to the dispute, unless the Board, ⁶[arbitrator,] ⁷[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal], as the case may be, records the opinion that they were so summoned without proper cause;
- (c) where a party referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) is an employer, his heirs, successors or assigns in respect of the establishment to which the dispute relates;
- (d) where a party referred to in clause (a) or clause (b) is composed of workmen, all persons who were employed in the establishment or part of the establishment, as the case may be, to which the dispute relates on the date of the dispute and all persons who subsequently become employed in that establishment or part.

19. Period of operation of settlements and awards.—(1) A settlement ^{8} shall come into operation on such date as is agreed upon by the parties to the dispute, and if no date is agreed upon, on the date on which the memorandum of the settlement is signed by the parties to the dispute.

(2) Such settlement shall be binding for such period as is agreed upon by the parties, and if no such period is agreed upon, for a period of six months ⁹[from the date on which the memorandum of settlement is signed by the parties to the dispute], and shall continue to be binding on the parties after the expiry of the period aforesaid, until the expiry of two months from the date on which a notice in writing of an intention to terminate the settlement is given by one of the parties to the other party or parties to the settlement.

¹⁰[(3) An award shall, subject to the provisions of this section, remain in operation for a period of one year ¹¹[from the date on which the award becomes enforceable under section 17A]:

Provided that the appropriate Government may reduce the said period and fix such period as it thinks fit:

Provided further that the appropriate Government may, before the expiry of the said period, extend the period of operation by any period not exceeding one year at a time as it thinks fit so, however, that the total period of operation of any award does not exceed three years from the date on which it came into operation.

(4) Where the appropriate Government, whether of its own motion or on the application of any party bound by the award, considers that since the award was made, there has been a material change in the circumstances on which it was based, the appropriate Government may refer the award or a part of it ¹²[to a Labour Court, if the award was that of a Labour Court or to a Tribunal, if the award was that of a Tribunal or of a National Tribunal] for decision whether the period of operation should not, by reason of

1. Subs. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 9, for “An arbitration award” (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

2. Section 18 re-numbered as sub-section (3) of that section by Act 36 of 1956, s. 13 (w.e.f. 7-10-1956).

3. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 9 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

4. Subs. by Act 48 of 1950, s. 34 and the Schedule, for “an award which is declared by the appropriate Government to be binding under sub-section (2) of section 15”.

5. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 13 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

6. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 9 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

7. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 13, for “or Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

8. The words “arrived at in the course of a conciliation proceeding under this Act” omitted by Act 36 of 1956, s. 14 (w.e.f. 7-10-1956).

9. Ins. by s. 14, ibid. (w.e.f. 7-10-1956).

such change, be shortened and the decision of ¹[Labour Court or the Tribunal, as the case may be] on such reference shall, ² be final.

(5) Nothing contained in sub-section (3) shall apply to any award which by its nature, terms or other circumstances does not impose, after it has been given effect to, any continuing obligation on the parties bound by the award.

(6) Notwithstanding the expiry of the period of operation under sub-section (3), the award shall continue to be binding on the parties until a period of two months has elapsed from the date on which notice is given by any party bound by the award to the other party or parties intimating its intention to terminate the award.

³[(7) No notice given under sub-section (2) or sub-section (6) shall have effect, unless it is given by a party representing the majority of persons bound by the settlement or award, as the case may be.]]

20. Commencement and conclusion of proceedings.—(1) A conciliation proceeding shall be deemed to have commenced on the date on which a notice of strike or lock-out under section 22 is received by the conciliation officer or on the date of the order referring the dispute to a Board, as the case may be.

(2) A conciliation proceeding shall be deemed to have concluded—

(a) where a settlement is arrived at, when a memorandum of the settlement is signed by the parties to the dispute;

(b) where no settlement is arrived at, when the report of the conciliation officer is received by the appropriate Government or when the report of the Board is published under section 17, as the case may be; or

(c) when a reference is made to a Court, ⁴[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] under section 10 during the pendency of conciliation proceedings.

(3) Proceedings ⁵[before an arbitrator under section 10A or before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] shall be deemed to have commenced on the date or the ⁶[reference of the dispute for arbitration or adjudication, as the case may be] and such proceedings shall be deemed to have concluded ⁷[on the date on which the award becomes enforceable under section 17A].

21. Certain matters to be kept confidential.—There shall not be included in any report or award under this Act any information obtained by a conciliation officer, Board, Court, ⁸[Labour Court, Tribunal, National Tribunal or an arbitrator] in the course of any investigation or inquiry as to a trade union or as to any individual business (whether carried on by a person, firm or company) which is not available otherwise than through the evidence given before such officer, Board, Court, ⁶[Labour Court, Tribunal, National Tribunal or an arbitrator], if the trade union, person, firm or company, in question has made a request in writing to the conciliation officer, Board, Court, ⁶[Labour Court, Tribunal, National Tribunal or an arbitrator], as the case may be, that such information shall be treated as confidential; nor shall such conciliation officer or any individual member of the Board, ⁹[or Court or the presiding officer of the Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal or the arbitrator] or any person present at or concerned in the proceedings disclose any such information without the consent in writing of the secretary of the trade union or the person, firm or company in question, as the case may be:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall apply to a disclosure of any such information for the purposes of a prosecution under section 193 of the Indian Penal Code (45 of 1860).

1. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 14, for “the Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

2. The words “subject to the provision for appeal omitted by s. 14, ibid. (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

CHAPTER V

STRIKES AND LOCK-OUTS

22. Prohibition of strikes and lock-outs.—(1) No person employed in a public utility service shall go on strike in breach of contract—

- (a) without giving to the employer notice of strike, as hereinafter provided, within six weeks before striking; or
- (b) within fourteen days of giving such notice; or
- (c) before the expiry of the date of strike specified in any such notice as aforesaid; or
- (d) during the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a conciliation officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings.

(2) No employer carrying on any public utility service shall lock-out any of his workmen—

- (a) without giving them notice of lock-out as hereinafter provided, within six weeks before locking out; or
- (b) within fourteen days of giving such notice; or
- (c) before the expiry the date of lock-out specified in any such notice as aforesaid; or
- (d) during the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a conciliation officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings.

(3) The notice of lock-out or strike under this section shall not be necessary where there is already in existence a strike or, as the case may be, lock-out in the public utility service, but the employer shall send intimation of such lock-out or strike on the day on which it is declared, to such authority as may be specified by the appropriate Government either generally or for a particular area or for a particular class of public utility services.

(4) The notice of strike referred to in sub-section (1) shall be given by such number of persons to such person or persons and in such manner as may be prescribed.

(5) The notice of lock-out referred to in sub-section (2) shall be given in such manner as may be prescribed.

(6) If on any day an employer receives from any persons employed by him any such notices as are referred to in sub-section (1) or gives to any persons employed by him any such notices as are referred to in sub-section (2), he shall within five days thereof report to the appropriate Government or to such authority as that Government may prescribe the number of such notices received or given on that day.

23. General prohibition of strikes and lock-outs.—No workman who is employed in any industrial establishment shall go on strike in breach of contract and no employer of any such workman shall declare a lock-out—

- (a) during the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a Board and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings;
- (b) during the pendency of proceedings before ¹[a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings; ^{2}
- ³[(bb) during the pendency of arbitration proceedings before an arbitrator and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings, where a notification has been issued under sub-section (3A) of section 10A; or]
- (c) during any period in which a settlement or award is in operation, in respect of any of the matters covered by the settlement or award.

1. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 17, for “a Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

2. The word “or” omitted by Act 36 of 1964, s. 11 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

3. Ins. by s. 11, ibid. (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

24. Illegal strikes and lock-outs.—(1) A strike or a lock-out shall be illegal if—

- (i) it is commenced or declared in contravention of section 22 or section 23; or
- (ii) it is continued in contravention of an order made under sub-section (3) of section 10 ¹[or sub-section (4A) of section 10A].

(2) Where a strike or lock-out in pursuance of an industrial dispute has already commenced and is in existence at the time of the reference of the dispute to a Board, ⁴[an arbitrator, a] ²[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal], the continuance of such strike or lock-out shall not be deemed to be illegal, provided that such strike or lock-out was not at its commencement in contravention of the provisions of this Act or the continuance thereof was not prohibited under sub-section (3) of section 10 ⁴[or sub-section (4A) of section 10A].

(3) A lock-out declared in consequence of an illegal strike or a strike declared in consequence of an illegal lock-out shall not be deemed to be illegal.

25. Prohibition of financial aid to illegal strikes and lock-outs.—No person shall knowingly expend or apply any money in direct furtherance of support of any illegal strike or lock-out.

³[CHAPTER VA

LAY-OFF AND RETRENCHMENT

25A. Application of sections 25C to 25E.—(1) Sections 25C to 25E inclusive ⁴[shall not apply to industrial establishments to which Chapter VB applies, or—]

(a) to industrial establishments in which less than fifty workmen on an average per working day have been employed in the preceding calendar month; or

(b) to industrial establishments which are of a seasonal character or in which work is performed only intermittently.

(2) If a question arises whether an industrial establishment is of a seasonal character or whether work is performed therein only intermittently, the decision of the appropriate Government thereon shall be final.

⁵[Explanation.—In this section and in sections 25C, 25D and 25E, “industrial establishment” means—

- (i) a factory as defined in clause (m) of section 2 of the Factories Act 1948 (63 of 1948); or
- (ii) a mine as defined in clause (i) of section 2 of the Mines Act, 1952 (35 of 1952); or
- (iii) a plantation as defined in clause (f) of section 2 of the Plantations Labour Act, 1951 (69 of 1951).]

⁶[25B. Definition of continuous service.—For the purposes of this Chapter,—

(1) a workman shall be said to be in continuous service for a period if he is, for that period, in uninterrupted service, including service which may be interrupted on account of sickness or authorised leave or an accident or a strike which is not illegal, or a lock-out or a cessation of work which is not due to any fault on the part of the workman;

(2) where a workman is not in continuous service within the meaning of clause (1) for a period of one year or six months, he shall be deemed to be in continuous service under an employer—

1. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 12 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

2. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 18, for “or Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

3. Ins. by Act 43 of 1953, s. 3 (w.e.f. 24-10-1953).

4. Subs. by Act 32 of 1976, s. 2, for “shall not apply-” (w.e.f. 5-3-1976).

5. Subs. by Act 48 of 1954, s. 2, for the Explanation (w.e.f. 1-4-1954).

6. Subs. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 13, for section 25B (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

(a) for a period of one year, if the workman, during a period of twelve calendar months preceding the date with reference to which calculation is to be made, has actually worked under the employer for not less than—

(i) one hundred and ninety days in the case of a workman employed below ground in a mine; and

(ii) two hundred and forty days, in any other case;

(b) for a period of six months, if the workman, during a period of six calendar months preceding the date with reference to which calculation is to be made, has actually worked under the employer for not less than—

(i) ninety-five days, in the case of a workman employed below ground in a mine; and

(ii) one hundred and twenty days, in any other case.

Explanation.—For the purposes of clause (2), the number of days on which a workman has actually worked under an employer shall include the days on which—

(i) he has been laid-off under an agreement or as permitted by standing orders made under the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 (20 of 1946), or under this Act or under any other law applicable to the industrial establishment;

(ii) he has been on leave with full wages, earned in the previous years;

(iii) he has been absent due to temporary disablement caused by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment; and

(iv) in the case of a female, she has been on maternity leave; so, however, that the total period of such maternity leave does not exceed twelve weeks.]

¹[25C. Right of workmen laid-off for compensation.—Whenever a workman (other than a badli workman or a casual workman) whose name is borne on the muster rolls of an industrial establishment and who has completed not less than one year of continuous service under an employer is laid-off, whether continuously or intermittently, he shall be paid by the employer for all days during which he is so laid-off, except for such weekly holidays as may intervene, compensation which shall be equal to fifty per cent. of the total of the basic wages and dearness allowance that would have been payable to him had he not been so laid-off:

Provided that if during any period of twelve months, a workman is so laid-off for more than forty-five days, no such compensation shall be payable in respect of any period of the lay-off after the expiry of the first forty-five days, if there is an agreement to that effect between the workman and the employer:

Provided further that it shall be lawful for the employer in any case falling within the foregoing proviso to retrench the workman in accordance with the provisions contained in section 25F at any time after the expiry of the first forty-five days of the lay-off and when he does so, any compensation paid to the workman for having been laid-off during the preceding twelve months may be set off against the compensation payable for retrenchment.

Explanation.—“Badli workman” means a workman who is employed in an industrial establishment in the place of another workman whose name is borne on the muster rolls of the establishment, but shall cease to be regarded as such for the purposes of this section, if he has completed one year of continuous service in the establishment.]

25D. Duty of an employer to maintain muster rolls of workmen.—Notwithstanding that workmen in any industrial establishment have been laid-off, it shall be the duty of every employer to maintain for the purposes of this Chapter a muster roll and to provide for the making of entries therein by workmen who may present themselves for work at the establishment at the appointed time during normal working hours.

1. Subs. by Act 35 of 1965, s. 5, for section 25C (w.e.f. 1-12-1965).

25E. Workmen not entitled to compensation in certain cases.—No compensation shall be paid to a workman who has been laid-off—

(i) if he refuses to accept any alternative employment in the same establishment from which he has been laid-off, or in any other establishment belonging to the same employer situate in the same town or village or situate within a radius of five miles from the establishment to which he belongs, if, in the opinion of the employer, such alternative employment does not call for any special skill or previous experience and can be done by the workman, provided that the wages which would normally have been paid to the workman are offered for the alternative employment also;

(ii) if he does not present himself for work at the establishment at the appointed time during normal working hours at least once a day;

(iii) if such laying-off is due to a strike or slowing-down of production on the part of workmen in another part of the establishment.

25F. Conditions precedent to retrenchment of workmen.—No workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until—

(a) the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice;

(b) the workman has been paid, at the time of retrenchment, compensation which shall be equivalent to fifteen days' average pay ²[for every completed year of continuous service] or any part thereof in excess of six months; and

(c) notice in the prescribed manner is served on the appropriate Government ³[or such authority as may be specified by the appropriate Government by notification in the Official Gazette].

⁴[25FF. Compensation to workmen in case of transfer of undertakings.—Where the ownership or management of an undertaking is transferred, whether by agreement or by operation of law, from the employer in relation to that undertaking to a new employer, every workman who has been in continuous service for not less than one year in that undertaking immediately before such transfer shall be entitled to notice and compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F, as if the workman had been retrenched:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to a workman in any case where there has been a change of employers by reason of the transfer, if—

(a) the service of the workman has not been interrupted by such transfer;

1. The proviso omitted by Act 49 of 1984, s. 3 (w.e.f. 18-8-1984).

2. Subs. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 14, for "for every completed year of service" (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

3. Ins. by s. 14, ibid. (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

4. Subs. by Act 18 of 1957, s. 3, for section 25FF (w.e.f. 28-11-1956).

(b) the terms and conditions of service applicable to the workman after such transfer are not in any way less favourable to the workman than those applicable to him immediately before the transfer; and

(c) the new employer is, under the terms of such transfer or otherwise, legally liable to pay to the workman, in the event of his retrenchment, compensation on the basis that his service has been continuous and has not been interrupted by the transfer.

¹[25FFA. Sixty days' notice to be given of intention to close down any undertaking.—(1) An employer who intends to close down an undertaking shall serve, at least sixty days before the date on which the intended closure is to become effective, a notice, in the prescribed manner, on the appropriate Government stating clearly the reasons for the intended closure of the undertaking:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to—

(a) an undertaking in which—

(i) less than fifty workmen are employed, or

(ii) less than fifty workmen were employed on an average per working day in the preceding twelve months,

(b) an undertaking set up for the construction of buildings, bridges, roads, canals, dams or for other construction work or project.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), the appropriate Government may, if it is satisfied that owing to such exceptional circumstances as accident in the undertaking or death of the employer or the like it is necessary so to do, by order, direct that provisions of sub-section (1) shall not apply in relation to such undertaking for such period as may be specified in the order.]

25FFF. Compensation to workmen in case of closing down of undertakings.—(1) Where an undertaking is closed down for any reason whatsoever, every workman who has been in continuous service for not less than one year in that undertaking immediately before such closure shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), be entitled to notice and compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F, as if the workman had been retrenched:

Provided that where the undertaking is closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer, the compensation to be paid to the workman under clause (b) of section 25F shall not exceed his average pay for three months.

²[Explanation.—An undertaking which is closed down by reason merely of—

(i) financial difficulties (including financial losses); or

(ii) accumulation of undisposed of stocks; or

(iii) the expiry of the period of the lease or licence granted to it; or

(iv) in a case where the undertaking is engaged in mining operations, exhaustion of the minerals in the area in which such operations are carried on;

shall not be deemed to be closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer within the meaning of the proviso to this sub-section.]

³[(1A) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where an undertaking engaged in mining operations is closed down by reason merely of exhaustion of the minerals in the area in which such operations are carried on, no workman referred to in that sub-section shall be entitled to any notice or compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F, if—

(a) the employer provides the workman with alternative employment with effect from the date of closure at the same remuneration as he was entitled to receive, and on the same terms and conditions of service as were applicable to him, immediately before the closure;

(b) the service of the workman has not been interrupted by such alternative employment; and

(c) the employer is, under the terms of such alternative employment or otherwise, legally liable to pay to the workman, in the event of his retrenchment, compensation on the basis that his service has been continuous and has not been interrupted by such alternative employment.

1. Ins. by Act 32 of 1972, s. 2.

2. Subs. by Act 45 of 1971, s. 4, for the Explanation (w.e.f. 15-12-1971).

3. Ins. by s. 4, ibid. (w.e.f. 15-12-1971).

(1B) For the purposes of sub-sections (1) and (1A), the expressions “minerals” and “mining operations” shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in clauses (a) and (d) of section 3 of the Mines and Minerals (Regulation and Development) Act, 1957 (67 of 1957).]

(2) Where any undertaking set-up for the construction of buildings, bridges, roads, canals, dams or other construction work is closed down on account of the completion of the work within two years from the date on which the undertaking had been set-up, no workman employed therein shall be entitled to any compensation under clause (b) of section 25F, but if the construction work is not so completed within two years, he shall be entitled to notice and compensation under that section for every ¹[completed year of continuous service] or any part thereof in excess of six months.]

25G. Procedure for retrenchment.—Where any workman in an industrial establishment, who is a citizen of India, is to be retrenched and he belongs to a particular category of workmen in that establishment, in the absence of any agreement between the employer and the workman in this behalf, the employer shall ordinarily retrench the workman who was the last person to be employed in that category, unless for reasons to be recorded the employer retrenches any other workman.

25H. Re-employment of retrenched workmen.—Where any workmen are retrenched, and the employer proposes to take into his employ any persons, he shall, in such manner as may be prescribed, give an opportunity ²[to the retrenched workmen who are citizens of India to offer themselves for re-employment and such retrenched workman] who offer themselves for re-employment shall have preference over other persons.

25-I. [Recovery of moneys due from employes under this chapter.] Rep. by the Industrial Disputes (Amendment and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1956 (36 of 1956), s. 19 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

25J. Effect of laws inconsistent with this Chapter.—(1) The provisions of this Chapter shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law [including standing orders made under the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 (20 of 1946)]:

³[Provided that where under the provisions of any other Act or rules, orders or notifications issued thereunder or under any standing orders or under any award, contract of service or otherwise, a workman is entitled to benefits in respect of any matter which are more favourable to him than those to which he would be entitled under this Act, the workman shall continue to be entitled to the more favourable benefits in respect of that matter, notwithstanding that he receives benefits in respect of other matters under this Act.]

(2) For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that nothing contained in this Chapter shall be deemed to affect the provisions of any other law for the time being in force in any State in so far as that law provides for the settlement of industrial disputes, but the rights and liabilities of employers and workmen in so far as they relate to lay-off and retrenchment shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.]

(ii) a mine as defined in clause (i) of sub- section (1) of section 2 of the Mines Act, 1952 (35 of 1952); or

(iii) a plantation as defined in clause (f) of section 2 of the Plantations Labour Act, 1951 (69 of 1951);

(b) notwithstanding anything contained in sub-clause (ii) of clause (a) of section 2,—

(i) in relation to any company in which not less than fifty-one per cent. of the paid-up share capital is held by the Central Government, or

(ii) in relation to any corporation [not being a corporation referred to in sub-clause (i) of clause (a) of section 2] established by or under any law made by Parliament, the Central Government shall be the appropriate Government.

Rajasthan

Amendment of section 25-L, Central Act No. 14 of 1947.---In clause (b) of section 25-L of the principle Act, for the expression “the Central Government shall be the appropriate Government”, the expression “the State Government shall have no powers under his this Chapter” shall be substituted.

[Vide Rajasthan Act 8 of 1984, s. 3]

25M. Prohibition of lay-off.—(1) No workman (other than a badli workman or a casual workman) whose name is borne on the muster rolls of an industrial establishment to which this Chapter applies shall be laid-off by his employer except ¹[with the prior permission of the appropriate Government or such authority as may be specified by that Government by notification in the Official Gazette (hereafter in this section referred to as the specified authority), obtained on an application made in this behalf, unless such lay-off is due to shortage of power or to natural calamity, and in the case of a mine, such lay-off is due also to fire, flood, excess of inflammable gas or explosion].

²[(2) An application for permission under sub-section (1) shall be made by the employer in the prescribed manner stating clearly the reasons for the intended lay-off and a copy of such application shall also be served simultaneously on the workmen concerned in the prescribed manner.

(3) Where the workman (other than badli workmen or casual workmen) of an industrial establishment, being a mine, have been laid-off under sub-section (1) for reasons of fire, flood or excess of inflammable gas or explosion, the employer, in relation to such establishment, shall, within a period of thirty days from the date of commencement of such lay-off, apply, in the prescribed manner, to the appropriate Government or the specified authority for permission to continue the lay-off.

(4) Where an application for permission under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) has been made, the appropriate Government or the specified authority, after making such enquiry as it thinks fit and after giving a reasonable opportunity of being heard to the employer, the workmen concerned and the persons interested in such lay-off, may, having regard to the genuineness and adequacy of the reasons for such lay-off, the interests of the workmen and all other relevant factors, by order and for reasons to be recorded in writing, grant or refuse to grant such permission and a copy of such order shall be communicated to the employer and the workmen.

(5) Where an application for permission under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3) has been made and the appropriate Government or the specified authority does not communicate the order granting or refusing to grant permission to the employer within a period of sixty days from the date on which such application is made, the permission applied for shall be deemed to have been granted on the expiration of the said period of sixty days.

(6) An order of the appropriate Government or the specified authority granting or refusing to grant permission shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (7), be final and binding on all the parties concerned and shall remain in force for one year from the date of such order.

(7) The appropriate Government or the specified authority may, either on its own motion or on the application made by the employer or any workman, review its order granting or refusing to grant permission under sub-section (4) or refer the matter or, as the case may be, cause it to be referred, to a Tribunal for adjudication:

Provided that where a reference has been made to a Tribunal under this sub-section, it shall pass an award within a period of thirty days from the date of such reference.

(8) Where no application for permission under sub-section (1) is made, or where no application for permission under sub-section (3) is made within the period specified therein, or where the permission for any lay-off has been refused, such lay-off shall be deemed to be illegal from the date on which the workmen had been laid-off and the workmen shall be entitled to all the benefits under any law for the time being in force as if they had not been laid-off.

(9) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing provisions of this section, the appropriate Government may, if it is satisfied that owing to such exceptional circumstances as accident in the establishment or death of the employer or the like, it is necessary so to do, by order, direct that the provisions of sub-section (1), or, as the case may be, sub-section (3) shall not apply in relation to such establishment for such period as may be specified in the order.]

¹[(10)] The provisions of section 25C (other than the second proviso thereto) shall apply to cases of lay-off referred to in this section.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a workman shall not be deemed to be laid-off by an employer if such employer offers any alternative employment (which in the opinion of the employer does not call for any special skill or previous experience and can be done by the workman) in the same establishment from which he has been laid-off or in any other establishment belonging to the same employer, situate in the same town or village, or situate within such distance from the establishment to which he belongs that the transfer will not involve undue hardship to the workman having regard to the facts and circumstances of his case, provided that the wages which would normally have been paid to the workman are offered for the alternative appointment also.

25P. Special provision as to restarting of undertakings closed down before commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act, 1976.—If the appropriate Government is of opinion in respect of any undertaking of an industrial establishment to which this Chapter applies and which closed down before the commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Amendment) Act, 1976 (32 of 1976),—

(a) that such undertaking was closed down otherwise than on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer;

(b) that there are possibilities of restarting the undertaking;

(c) that it is necessary for the rehabilitation of the workmen employed in such undertaking before its closure or for the maintenance of supplies and services essential to the life of the community to restart the undertaking or both; and

(d) that the restarting of the undertaking will not result in hardship to the employer in relation to the undertaking, it may, after giving an opportunity to such employer and workmen, direct, by order published in the Official Gazette, that the undertaking shall be restarted within such time (not being less than one month from the date of the order) as may be specified in the order.

Rajasthan

Substitution of section 25-P, Central Act No. 14 of 1947:- For section 25-P of the principle Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:-

“25-P. Special provision as to restarting of undertaking closed down before commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Rajasthan Amendment) Act, 1984.- (1) Where the undertaking of an industrial establishment to which this Chapter applies had been closed down before the commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Rajasthan Amendment) Act, 1984 and the State Government, after giving reasonable opportunity of being heard to the employer, workmen and the office bearer of the representative union of the concerned industrial establishment and after making such enquiry as it thinks fit, is satisfied that,-

(a) such undertaking was closed down otherwise than on account of unavoidable circumstances, beyond the control of the employer;

(b) there are possibilities of restarting the undertaking;

(c) it is necessary for the rehabilitation of the workmen employed in such undertaking before its closure or for the maintenance of supplies and services essential to the life of the community or both to restarted the undertaking ; and

(d) the restarting of the undertaking will not result in hardship to the employer in relation to the undertaking,

It may direct, by order published in the Official Gazette, that the undertaking shall be restarted within such time (not being less than one months from the date of the order) as may be specified in the order.

- (2) An order of the State Government directing the restarting of the undertaking under sub-section (1) shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (3), be final and binding on all the parties.
- (3) The State Government may either on its own motion or on the application made by the employer and after giving to such employer, the workmen and the office-bearer of the representative union of the concerned industrial establishment an opportunity of being heard, review its order directing the restarting of the undertaking under sub-section (1) or refer the matter to a Tribunal for adjudication:

Provided that where a reference has been made to a Tribunal under this sub-section, it shall pass an award within a period of sixty days from the date of such reference and pending award by the Tribunal, the undertaking shall continue to remain restarted.”

[Vide Rajasthan Act 8 of 1984, s. 7]

Insertion of new section 25-PP, Central Act No. 14 of 1947:- After section 25-P of the principal Act as so substituted, the following new section shall be added, namely:-

“25 PP. Special provision as to reinstatement of workmen retrenched before the commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Rajasthan Amendment) Act, 1984.-(1)

Notwithstanding any award or order of a Tribunal or any judgement, order or direction of any Court upholding the validity of retrenchment of any workman employed in any industrial establishment to which this Chapter applies who is retrenched at any time during six months immediately before the commencement of the Industrial Disputes (Rajasthan Amendment) Act, 1984, the State Government shall, either on its own motion or on the application made by any such retrenched workman or by the office-bearer of the representative union of the concerned industrial establishment, examine the validity of retrenchment of such workman and if, after making such enquiry as it thinks fit and after giving reasonable opportunity of being heard to the employer, the retrenched workman, or, as case may be, to such office-bearer, it is satisfied that,-

- (a) the retrenchment of the workman was without genuine or adequate reasons;
- (b) the retrenchment was by way of victimisation and unfair labour practice; and
- (c) the reinstatement of the workman is required for maintaining industrial peace in the industrial establishment, it shall by order and for reasons to be recorded in writing, direct the employer to reinstate the retrenched workman within such time as may be specified in the order and if it is not so satisfied, it shall by such reasoned order uphold the validity of retrenchment of the workman and shall communicate its order to the employer and the workman.

(2) An order of the State Government under sub-section (1), subject to the order passed by it as a result of review under sub-section (3) and, where a reference has been made by it to a Tribunal under the said sub-section, subject to the award passed by the Tribunal, shall be final and binding on the employer and the workman.

(3) The State Government may, either on its own motion or on the application made by the employer or the retrenched workman, review its order directing reinstatement of the retrenched workman or, as the case may be, the order upholding the validity of retrenchment of the workman under sub-section (1) or refer the matter to a Tribunal for adjudication:

Provided that where a reference has been made to a Tribunal under this sub-section, it shall pass an award within a period of thirty days from the date of such reference.”

CHAPTER VII

MISCELLANEOUS

32. Offence by companies, etc.—Where a person committing an offence under this Act is a company, or other body corporate, or an association of persons (whether incorporated or not), every director, manager, secretary, agent or other officer or person concerned with the management thereof shall, unless he proves that the offence was committed without his knowledge or consent, be deemed to be guilty of such offence.

¹[33. Conditions of service, etc., to remain unchanged under certain circumstances during pendency of proceedings.—(1) During the pendency of any conciliation proceeding before a conciliation officer or a Board or of any proceeding before ²[an arbitrator or] a Labour Court or Tribunal or National Tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute, no employer shall,—

(a) in regard to any matter connected with the dispute, alter, to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute, the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceeding; or

(b) for any misconduct connected with the dispute, discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, any workmen concerned in such dispute, save with the express permission in writing of the authority before which the proceeding is pending.

(2) During the pendency of any such proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute, the employer may, in accordance with the standing orders applicable to a workman concerned in such dispute ³[or, where there are no such standing orders, in accordance with the terms of the contract, whether express or implied, between him and the workman],—

(a) alter, in regard to any matter not connected with the dispute, the conditions of service applicable to that workman immediately before the commencement of such proceeding; or

(b) for any misconduct not connected with the dispute, or discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, that workman:

Provided that no such workman shall be discharged or dismissed, unless he has been paid wages for one month and an application has been made by the employer to the authority before which the proceeding is pending for approval of the action taken by the employer.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2), no employer shall, during the pendency of any such proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute, take any action against any protected workman concerned in such dispute—

(a) by altering, to the prejudice of such protected workman, the conditions of service applicable to him immediately before the commencement of such proceedings; or

(b) by discharging or punishing, whether by dismissal or otherwise, such protected workman,

save with the express permission in writing of the authority before which the proceeding is pending.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this sub-section, a “protected workman”, in relation to an establishment, means a workman who, being ⁴[a member of the executive or other office bearer] of a registered trade union connected with the establishment, is recognised as such in accordance with rules made in this behalf.

(4) In every establishment, the number of workmen to be recognised as protected workmen for the purposes of sub-section (3) shall be one per cent. of the total number of workmen employed therein subject to a minimum number of five protected workmen and a maximum number of one hundred protected workmen and for the aforesaid purpose, the appropriate Government may make rules providing for the distribution of such protected workmen among various trade unions, if any, connected with the establishment and the manner in which the workmen may be chosen and recognised as protected workmen.

(5) Where an employer makes an application to a conciliation officer, Board, ²[an arbitrator, a] labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal under the proviso to sub-section (2) for approval of the action taken by him, the authority concerned shall, without delay, hear such application and pass, ⁵[within a period of three months from the date of receipt of such application], such order in relation thereto as it deems fit:]

1. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 21, for section 33 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

2. Ins. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 18 (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

3. Ins. by s. 18, ibid. (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

4. Subs. by Act 45 of 1971, s. 5, for “an officer” (w.e.f. 15-12-1971).

5. Subs. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 17, for “as expeditiously as possible” (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

¹[Provided that where any such authority considers it necessary or expedient so to do, it may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, extend such period by such further period as it may think fit:

Provided further that no proceedings before any such authority shall lapse merely on the ground that any period specified in this sub-section had expired without such proceedings being completed.]

²[33A. Special provision for adjudication as to whether conditions of service, etc., changed during pendency of proceedings.]—Where an employer contravenes the provisions of section 33 during the pendency of proceedings ³[before a conciliation officer, Board, an arbitrator, a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal], any employee aggrieved by such contravention, may make a complaint in writing, ⁵[in the prescribed manner,—

(a) to such conciliation officer or Board, and the conciliation officer or Board shall take such complaint into account in mediating in, and promoting the settlement of, such industrial dispute; and

(b) to such arbitrator, Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal and on receipt of such complaint, the arbitrator, Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, as the case may be, shall adjudicate upon the complaint as if it were a dispute referred to or pending before it, in accordance with the provisions of this Act and shall submit his or its award to the appropriate Government and the provisions of this Act shall apply accordingly.]]

⁴[33B. Power to transfer certain proceedings.]—(1) The appropriate Government may, by order in writing and for reasons to be stated therein, withdraw any proceeding under this Act pending before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal and transfer the same to another Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, as the case may be, for the disposal of the proceeding and the Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal to which the proceeding is so transferred may, subject to special directions in the order of transfer, proceed either de novo or from the stage at which it was so transferred:

Provided that where a proceeding under section 33 or section 33A is pending before a Tribunal or National Tribunal, the proceeding may also be transferred to a Labour Court.

(2) Without prejudice to the provisions of sub-section (1), any Tribunal or National Tribunal, if so authorised by the appropriate Government, may transfer any proceeding under section 33 or section 33A pending before it to any one of the Labour Courts specified for the disposal of such proceedings by the appropriate Government by notification in the Official Gazette and the Labour Court to which the proceeding is so transferred shall dispose of the same.

⁵[33C. Recovery of money due from an employer.]—(1) Where any money is due to a workman from an employer under a settlement or an award or under the provisions of ⁶[Chapter VA or Chapter VB], the workman himself or any other person authorised by him in writing in this behalf, or, in the case of the death of the workman, his assignee or heirs may, without prejudice to any other mode of recovery, make an application to the appropriate Government for the recovery of the money due to him, and if the appropriate Government is satisfied that any money is so due, it shall issue a certificate for that amount to the Collector who shall proceed to recover the same in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue:

Provided that every such application shall be made within one year from the date on which the money became due to the workman from the employer:

Provided further that any such application may be entertained after the expiry of the said period of one year, if the appropriate Government is satisfied that the applicant had sufficient cause for not making the application within the said period.

(2) Where any workman is entitled to receive from the employer any money or any benefit which is capable of being computed in terms of money and if any question arises as to the amount of money due or as to the amount at which such benefit should be computed, then the question may, subject to any rules

1. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 17 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

2. Ins. by Act 48 of 1950, s. 34 and the Schedule.

3. Subs. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 18, for certain words (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

4. Ins. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 23 (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

5. Subs. by Act 36 of 1964, s. 19, for section 33C (w.e.f. 19-12-1964).

6. Subs. by Act 32 of 1976, s. 4, for “Chapter VA” (w.e.f. 5-3-1976).

that may be made under this Act, be decided by such Labour Court as may be specified in this behalf by the appropriate Government; ¹[within a period not exceeding three months:]

¹[Provided that where the presiding officer of a Labour Court considers it necessary or expedient so to do, he may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, extend such period by such further period as he may think fit.]

(3) For the purposes of computing the money value of a benefit, the Labour Court may, if it so thinks fit, appoint a commissioner who shall, after taking such evidence as may be necessary, submit a report to the Labour Court and the Labour Court shall determine the amount after considering the report of the commissioner and other circumstances of the case.

(4) The decision of the Labour Court shall be forwarded by it to the appropriate Government and any amount found due by the Labour Court may be recovered in the manner provided for in sub-section (1).

(5) Where workmen employed under the same employer are entitled to receive from him any money or any benefit capable of being computed in terms of money, then, subject to such rules as may be made in this behalf, a single application for the recovery of the amount due may be made on behalf of or in respect of any number of such workmen.

Explanation.—In this section “Labour Court” includes any court constituted under any law relating to investigation and settlement of industrial disputes in force in any State.]]

STATE AMENDMENT

Assam

Amendment of Section 33-C.—In the principal Act, in section 33-C, in sub-section (1), for the words “to the collector who shall proceed to recover the same in the same manner as an arrear of land revenue” the words “to the Chief Judicial Magistrate having jurisdiction who shall proceed to realize as if it were a fine imposed by such Magistrate” shall be substituted.

[Vide Assam Act 22 of 2007, s. 3]

Amendment of section 33C, Central Act 14 of 1947.—In sub-section (1) of section 33C of the principal Act, after the expression “Chapter VA”, the expression “or under an order issued by the State Government under section 10K of the Act” shall be inserted.

[Vide Rajasthan Act 14 of 1970, s. 8]

34. Cognizance of offences.—(1) No Court shall take cognizance of any offence punishable under this Act or of the abetment of any such offence, save on complaint made by or under the authority of the appropriate Government.

(2) No Court inferior to that of ²[a Metropolitan Magistrate or a Judicial Magistrate of the first class], shall try any offence punishable under this Act.

35. Protection of persons.—(1) No person refusing to take part or to continue to take part in any strike or lock-out which is illegal under this Act shall, by reason of such refusal or by reason of any action taken by him under this section, be subject to expulsion from any trade union or society, or to any fine or penalty, or to deprivation of any right or benefit to which he or his legal representatives would otherwise be entitled, or be liable to be placed in any respect, either directly or indirectly, under any disability or at any disadvantage as compared with other members of the union or society, anything to the contrary in the rules of a trade union or society notwithstanding.

(2) Nothing in the rules of a trade union or society requiring the settlement of disputes in any manner shall apply to any proceeding for enforcing any right or exemption secured by this section, and in any such proceeding the Civil Court may, in lieu of ordering a person who has been expelled from membership of a trade union or society to be restored to membership, order that he be paid out of the funds of the trade union or society such sum by way of compensation or damages as that Court thinks just.

³[36. Representation of parties.—(1) A workman who is a party to a dispute shall be entitled to be represented in any proceeding under this Act by—

1. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 19 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

2. Subs. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 20, for certain words (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

3. Subs. by Act 48 of 1950, s. 34 and the Schedule, for section 36.

- (a) ¹[any member of the executive or office bearer] of a registered trade union of which he is a member;
- (b) ² [any member of the executive or other office bearer] of a federation of trade unions to which the trade union referred to in clause (a) is affiliated;
- (c) where the worker is not a member of any trade union, by ²[any member of the executive or other office bearer] of any trade union connected with, or by any other workman employed in the industry in which the worker is employed and authorised in such manner as may be prescribed.

(2) An employer who is a party to a dispute shall be entitled to be represented in any proceeding under this Act by—

- (a) an officer of an association of employers of which he is a member;
- (b) an officer of a federation of association of employers to which the association referred to in clause (a) is affiliated;
- (c) where the employer is not a member of any association of employers, by an officer of any association of employers connected with, or by any other employer engaged in, the industry in which the employer is engaged and authorised in such manner as may be prescribed.

(3) No party to a dispute shall be entitled to be represented by a legal practitioner in any conciliation proceedings under this Act or in any proceedings before a Court.

(4) In any proceeding ²[before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal], a party to a dispute may be represented by a legal practitioner with the consent of the other parties to the proceedings and ³[with the leave of the Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, as the case may be].]

⁴[36A. Power to remove difficulties.—(1) If, in the opinion of the appropriate Government, any difficulty or doubt arises as to the interpretation of any provision of an award or settlement, it may refer the question to such Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal as it may think fit.

(2) The Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal to which such question is referred shall, after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, decide such question and its decision shall be final and binding on all such parties.]

⁵[36B. Power to exempt.—Where the appropriate Government is satisfied in relation to any industrial establishment or undertaking or any class of industrial establishments or undertakings carried on by a department of that Government that adequate provisions exist for the investigation and settlement of industrial disputes in respect of workmen employed in such establishment or undertaking or class of establishments or undertakings, it may, by notification in the Official Gazette, exempt, conditionally or unconditionally such establishment or undertaking or class of establishments or undertakings from all or any of the provisions of this Act.]

37. Protection of action taken under the Act.—No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall lie against any person for anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Act or any rules made thereunder.

38. Power to make rules.—(1) The appropriate Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

- (a) the powers and procedure of conciliation officers, Boards, Courts, ⁶[Labour Courts, Tribunals and National Tribunals] including rules as to the summoning of witnesses, the production of documents relevant to the subject-matter of an inquiry or investigation, the number of members necessary to form a quorum and the manner of submission of reports and awards;

1. Subs. by Act 45 of 1971, s. 6, for “an officer” (w.e.f. 15-12-1971).

2. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 24, for “before a Tribunal” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

5. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 21 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

6. Subs. by Act 36 of 1956, s. 26, for “and Tribunals” (w.e.f. 10-3-1957).

¹[(aa) the form of arbitration agreement, the manner in which it may be signed by the parties,
²[the manner in which a notification may be issued under sub-section (3A) of section 10A,] the powers of the arbitrator named in the arbitration agreement and the procedure to be followed by him;

(aaa) the appointment of assessors in proceedings under this Act;]

³* * * *

(b) the constitution and functions of and the filling of vacancies in Works Committees, and the procedure to be followed by such Committees in the discharge of their duties;

⁴[(c) the salaries and allowances and the terms and conditions for appointment of the presiding officers of the Labour Court, Tribunal and the National Tribunal including the allowances admissible to members of Courts, Boards and to assessors and witnesses;]

(d) the ministerial establishment which may be allotted to a Court, Board, ⁵[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] and the salaries and allowances payable to members of such establishments;

(e) the manner in which and the persons by and to whom notice of strike or lock-out may be given and the manner in which such notices shall be communicated;

(f) the conditions subject to which parties may be represented by legal practitioners in proceedings under this Act before a Court, ³[Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal];

(g) any other matter which is to be or may be prescribed.

(3) Rules made under this section may provide that a contravention thereof shall be punishable with fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

⁶[(4) All rules made under this section shall, as soon as possible after they are made, be laid before the State Legislature or, where the appropriate Government is the Central Government, before both Houses of Parliament.]

⁷[(5) Every rule made by the Central Government under this section shall be laid, as soon as may be after it is made, before each House of Parliament while it is in session for a total period of thirty days which may be comprised in one session or in ⁸[two or more successive sessions, and if, before the expiry of the session immediately following the session or the successive sessions aforesaid] both Houses agree in making any modification in the rule, or both Houses agree that the rule should not be made, the rule shall thereafter have effect only in such modified form or be of no effect, as the case may be; so, however, that any such modification or annulment shall be without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done under that rule.]

⁹[39. Delegation of powers.—The appropriate Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that any power exercisable by it under this Act or rules made thereunder shall, in relation to such matters and subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction, be exercisable also,—

(a) where the appropriate Government is the Central Government, by such officer or authority subordinate to the Central Government or by the State Government, or by such officer or authority subordinate to the State Government, as may be specified in the notification; and

UNFAIR LABOUR PRACTICES

I.—On the part of employers and trade unions of employers

1. To interfere with, restrain from, or coerce, workmen in the exercise of their right to organise, form, join or assist a trade union or to engage in concerted activities for the purposes of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection, that is to say:—

(a) threatening workmen with discharge or dismissal, if they join a trade union;

(b) threatening a lock-out or closure, if a trade union is organised;

(c) granting wage increase to workmen at crucial periods of trade union organisation, with a view to undermining the efforts of the trade union organisation.

2. To dominate, interfere with or contribute support, financial or otherwise, to any trade union, that is to say:—

(a) an employer taking an active interest in organising a trade union of his workmen; and

(b) an employer showing partiality or granting favour to one of several trade unions attempting to organise his workmen or to its members, where such a trade union is not a recognised trade union.

3. To establish employer sponsored trade unions of workmen.

4. To encourage or discourage membership in any trade union by discriminating against any workman, that is to say:—

(a) discharging or punishing a workman, because he urged other workmen to join or organise a trade union;

(b) discharging or dismissing a workman for taking part in any strike (not being as trike which is deemed to be an illegal strike under this Act);

(c) changing seniority rating of workmen because of trade union activities;

(d) refusing to promote workmen to higher posts on account of their trade union activities;

(e) giving unmerited promotions to certain workmen with a view to creating discord amongst other workmen, or to undermine the strength of their trade union;

(f) discharging office-bearers or active members of the trade union on account of their trade union activities.

5. To discharge or dismiss workmen—

(a) by way of victimisation;

(b) not in good faith, but in the colourable exercise of the employer's rights;

(c) by falsely implicating a workman in a criminal case on false evidence or on concocted evidence;

(d) for patently false reasons;

(e) on untrue or trumped up allegation of absence without leave;

(f) in utter disregard of the principles of natural justice in the conduct of domestic enquiry or with undue haste;

1. Ins. by Act 46 of 1982, s. 23 (w.e.f. 21-8-1984).

(g) for misconduct of a minor or technical character, without having any regard to the nature of the particular misconduct or the past record or service of the workman, thereby leading to a disproportionate punishment.

6. To abolish the work of a regular nature being done by workmen, and to give such work to contractors as a measure of breaking a strike.

7. To transfer a workman mala fide from one place to another, under the guise of following management policy.

8. To insist upon individual workmen, who are on a legal strike to sign a good conduct bond, as a pre-condition to allowing them to resume work.

9. To show favouritism or partiality to one set of workers regardless of merit.

10. To employ workmen as “badlis”, casuals or temporaries and to continue them as such for years, with the object of depriving them of the status and privileges of permanent workmen.

11. To discharge or discriminate against any workman for filing charges or testifying against an employer in any enquiry or proceeding relating to any industrial dispute.

12. To recruit workmen during a strike which is not an illegal strike.

13. Failure to implement award, settlement or agreement.

14. To indulge in acts of force or violence.

15. To refuse to bargain collectively, in good faith with the recognised trade unions.

16. Proposing or continuing a lock-out deemed to be illegal under this Act.

II.—On the part of workmen and trade unions of workmen

1. To advise or actively support or instigate any strike deemed to be illegal under this Act.

2. To coerce workmen in the exercise of their right to self-organisation or to join a trade union or refrain from joining any trade union, that is to say:—

(a) for a trade union or its members to picketing in such a manner that non-striking workmen are physically debarred from entering the work place;

(b) to indulge in acts of force or violence or to hold out threats of intimidation in connection with a strike against non-striking workmen or against managerial staff.

3. For a recognised union to refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with the employer.

4. To indulge in coercive activities against certification of a bargaining representative.

5. To stage, encourage or instigate such forms of corrective actions as willful “go slow”, squatting on the work premises after working hours or “gherao” of any of the members of the managerial or other staff.

6. To stage demonstrations at the residence of the employers or the managerial staff members.

7. To incite or indulge in willful damage to employer's property connected with the industry.

8. To indulge in acts of force or violence or to hold out threats of intimidation against any workman with a view to prevent him from attending work.]

Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Bare Act PDF + Executive Summary)

Introduction to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Bare Act PDF)

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 bare act PDF is one of the cornerstones of India's labour law framework. Enacted in the immediate aftermath of independence, it was designed to address the rising number of conflicts between employers and workmen in factories, plantations, and other industries. The new nation recognised that economic progress could not be achieved without industrial peace, and this Act became the central mechanism for regulating disputes, preventing strikes and lockouts, and creating a legal structure for conciliation and adjudication.

At its core, the Act balances two competing interests: the employer's right to manage business operations and the workmen's right to fair treatment and security of employment. It provides institutional mechanisms such as conciliation officers, labour courts, and tribunals to ensure that disputes are resolved through structured procedures rather than disruptive confrontations. Over time, it has become the foundation for interpreting concepts like retrenchment, lay-offs, and industrial closures, shaping the contours of employer-employee relationships in India.

Core Purposes of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947

The intent of the Act can be summarised in three guiding purposes:

- Prevention of industrial unrest by establishing legal machinery for resolving disputes at an early stage.
- Protection of workmen's rights by regulating conditions of retrenchment, lay-offs, strikes, and lockouts.

Historical Background and Objectives of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Executive Summary PDF)

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 executive summary PDF reflects the socio-economic realities of post-independence India. In the years leading up to 1947, the country witnessed a surge in industrial growth, but this was accompanied by frequent strikes, lockouts, and disputes over wages, working hours, and service conditions. Industrial peace was fragile, and without a proper legal framework, these disputes often escalated into prolonged unrest, damaging productivity and creating hostility between employers and workers.

The colonial government had attempted to address industrial conflicts through earlier legislations, such as the Trade Disputes Act, 1929. However, these laws were limited in scope and primarily designed to curb strikes rather than resolve underlying causes of disputes. After independence, the Indian Parliament recognised that industrial development and nation-building required a more balanced law, one that would provide structured mechanisms for negotiation, conciliation, and adjudication, while safeguarding the interests of both employers and employees.

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 was therefore enacted to create a comprehensive system for the investigation and settlement of disputes. Its objective was not just to regulate strikes and lockouts, but to prevent them by resolving conflicts before they reached a crisis stage. Over time, the Act has become central to India's industrial relations system, guiding everything from retrenchment rules to compensation in layoffs and closures.

Key Objectives Highlighted in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

- To ensure industrial peace and harmony by providing a legal framework for dispute resolution.
- To protect the rights of workmen in matters of wages, employment security, retrenchment, and working conditions.

- To regulate strikes and lockouts in a manner that balances workers' rights with economic stability.
- To provide a machinery for conciliation and adjudication through labour courts, tribunals, and national tribunals.
- To support India's post-independence economic growth by minimising disruptions in key industries.

Scope, Applicability, and Coverage in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (PDF Corrida Legal)

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal outlines in detail the establishments, industries, and categories of employees to which the Act applies. Since the objective of the Act is to maintain industrial peace and protect workmen's rights, its scope is deliberately wide, ensuring that disputes in various sectors can be addressed through structured mechanisms.

The Act applies to all industries carrying on systematic activity with cooperation between employers and employees for the production or distribution of goods and services. Its coverage extends to factories, plantations, railways, transport services, mines, and numerous other sectors that are vital to India's economic functioning. This breadth ensures that disputes in critical industries, which could have far-reaching consequences, are managed within the framework of law.

Scope Defined in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 executive summary PDF explains the core scope and definitions:

- Industry: Broadly defined to include any business, trade, manufacture, or service where employers and employees collaborate.
- Workman: Any person employed in an industry doing manual, skilled, technical, operational, clerical, or supervisory work for hire or reward, excluding those in managerial or administrative roles.
- Employer: Any person who has control over the affairs of the establishment and authority over the employment of workers.

Applicability Across Establishments in the Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal highlights that the Act applies to:

- All industrial establishments employing workmen across India.
- Both public and private sector enterprises engaged in industrial activities.
- Large-scale industries like mining, transport, and railways, as well as medium and small enterprises.
- Certain government-controlled establishments, ensuring uniformity of dispute resolution.

Key Features in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Key Provisions Summary

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary notes the following coverage details:

- The Act applies irrespective of the number of employees, provided an industry and employer-workman relationship exists.
- It extends to both permanent and temporary workmen, protecting them against unfair labour practices.
- Even daily wage earners and contract workers are included under its umbrella, as clarified by judicial pronouncements.

Importance of Broad Coverage in the Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation PDF

The Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF explains that such wide applicability is crucial for industrial stability. By bringing a variety of establishments within its fold, the Act prevents fragmented approaches and ensures that all disputes — whether in large industries or smaller units — can be handled with consistency.

Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation (PDF)

The Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF highlights one of the core strengths of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 — its structured mechanisms for peacefully resolving conflicts between employers and workmen. Instead of leaving disputes to escalate into strikes, lockouts, or prolonged hostility, the Act establishes step-by-step procedures for conciliation, adjudication, and voluntary negotiation. This reflects the underlying philosophy that industrial peace is best maintained through dialogue and structured intervention rather than confrontation.

Conciliation is the first and most important step under the Act. It involves neutral officers or boards who mediate between employers and employees, aiming to reach a settlement before matters worsen. If conciliation fails, the Act provides for reference of disputes to Labour Courts, Industrial Tribunals, or National Tribunals, depending on the nature and gravity of the issue. This tiered approach allows disputes to be resolved at the most appropriate level, ensuring both accessibility and authority.

Settlement Mechanisms in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 executive summary PDF highlights three primary settlement methods under the Act

- Conciliation Officers and Boards of Conciliation: Appointed by the government to mediate disputes and record settlements.
- Labour Courts: Handle disputes relating to dismissal, retrenchment, and service conditions.
- Industrial Tribunals and National Tribunals: Deal with larger issues like wage structures, working hours, and matters of national importance.

Preventive Role Explained in the Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal explains that conciliation has a preventive role. By ensuring that disputes are mediated early, it prevents escalation into strikes or lockouts that could disrupt production. Conciliation officers are required to actively persuade both sides to compromise and to submit a detailed report to the government, which can then decide on further reference to adjudication.

Role of Arbitration in the Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation PDF

Apart from conciliation and adjudication, the Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF also recognises voluntary arbitration. Employers and workmen can mutually agree to refer their disputes to an independent arbitrator, whose decision becomes binding. This provides flexibility and speed in dispute resolution, while also reducing the burden on formal tribunals.

Broader Impact in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Key Provisions Summary

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary underlines that these mechanisms have had a significant impact on industrial relations in India. They have reduced the frequency of uncontrolled strikes, provided workers with institutional forums for justice, and given employers legal certainty in managing disputes.

Retrenchment, Lay-Off, and Closure Rules in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (PDF)

The Industrial Disputes Act retrenchment and lay-off rules PDF deals with some of the most sensitive aspects of industrial relations — situations where employers are compelled to reduce their workforce or temporarily halt operations. These provisions are critical because they directly affect the livelihood of workmen while also recognising the operational and financial challenges faced by employers. The Act seeks to strike a balance by ensuring that employers can restructure when necessary, but only under fair and legally regulated conditions that safeguard employees' rights.

Retrenchment Rules in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 executive summary PDF defines retrenchment as the termination of service of a workman by the employer for any reason other than disciplinary action, retirement, or superannuation. To protect employees, the Act mandates:

- Notice Requirement: Employers must give one month's notice (or wages in lieu) before retrenchment.
- Compensation: Payment of compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service.
- Last-In-First-Out Rule: Employers are generally required to follow the principle of retaining senior employees while retrenching juniors, unless recorded reasons justify otherwise.

Lay-Off Provisions in the Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal explains lay-off as the temporary inability of an employer to provide work due to reasons such as shortage of raw materials, machinery breakdown, or natural calamities. Under the Act:

- Workmen (other than badli or casual workers) are entitled to compensation for the lay-off period, usually 50% of basic wages and dearness allowance.
- Employers must maintain records of lay-offs and report them as required.
- Continuous lay-offs may lead to further obligations such as retrenchment procedures.

Closure Rules in the Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation PDF

The Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF highlights the closure provisions:

- Employers intending to close an undertaking must give at least 60 days' notice to the appropriate government.
- In certain cases (for establishments employing 100 or more workmen), prior government approval is required before closure.
- Employees affected by closure are entitled to compensation similar to retrenchment, ensuring financial protection during loss of employment.

Protection in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Key Provisions Summary

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary makes it clear that retrenchment, lay-off, and closure provisions are designed to prevent arbitrary termination and ensure that workmen receive fair compensation. This balance protects both industrial stability and workers' livelihood.

Key Provisions and Definitions in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Key Provisions Summary)

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary highlights the critical definitions and substantive rules that form the backbone of this legislation. These provisions clarify the scope of the law, the rights and duties of workmen and employers, and the mechanisms through which disputes are resolved. By defining terms such as “industry,” “workman,” and “employer,” the Act removes ambiguity and ensures uniform application across sectors.

The law not only addresses the settlement of disputes but also regulates strikes, lockouts, retrenchment, and closure, making it a comprehensive framework for industrial relations. It balances the need for industrial peace with the protection of workers’ rights, thereby fostering both economic progress and social justice.

Core Definitions in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 executive summary PDF identifies the key statutory definitions:

- Industry: Any business, trade, manufacture, or service where employers and workmen collaborate. This wide definition ensures that a broad range of establishments are covered.
- Workman: Any individual employed in an industry doing manual, skilled, technical, operational, or clerical work, excluding managerial and supervisory staff.
- Employer: A person or authority who has ultimate control over the affairs of the establishment and the power to hire or dismiss employees.

Substantive Provisions in the Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal explains the major provisions of the Act:

- Settlement of disputes: Through conciliation, arbitration, and adjudication by Labour Courts, Tribunals, and National Tribunals.
- Regulation of strikes and lockouts: Prohibition of strikes and lockouts in public utility services without prior notice, and penalties for illegal actions.
- Protection of workmen: Safeguards against unfair labour practices, arbitrary retrenchment, and denial of compensation.
- Compensation rules: For retrenchment, lay-offs, and closure of undertakings.

Rights and Restrictions in the Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation PDF

The Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF clarifies additional rights and restrictions:

- Workers have the right to raise disputes through recognised unions or individually.
- Employers cannot change service conditions during the pendency of disputes without permission.
- Governments have the power to refer disputes for adjudication in the interest of public order or economic stability.

Importance of Key Provisions in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Key Provisions Summary

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary underlines the importance of these rules in ensuring predictability and fairness. By defining roles and obligations clearly, the Act creates a balance where disputes can be resolved systematically, strikes and lockouts are regulated, and both employers and employees operate within a legal framework.

Enforcement and Penalties under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Bare Act PDF)

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 bare act PDF does not merely prescribe rights and obligations; it also creates an enforcement framework to ensure that its provisions are implemented in practice. Without effective enforcement, the mechanisms for conciliation, adjudication, and protection of workmen's rights would remain theoretical. The Act therefore empowers government authorities, inspectors, and courts to monitor compliance and impose penalties where necessary.

Enforcement under the Act is proactive and preventive in nature. By appointing conciliation officers, labour commissioners, and inspectors, the government ensures that disputes are addressed promptly, records are maintained properly, and employers do not evade their statutory responsibilities. At the same time, penalties act as a deterrent against unfair labour practices, illegal strikes, and lockouts that can disrupt industrial peace.

Enforcement Mechanisms in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 executive summary PDF highlights the following enforcement tools:

- Inspectors and labour authorities have powers to demand records, examine wage registers, and question employers and employees.
- Conciliation officers and tribunals ensure that disputes are addressed before they escalate.
- Government intervention allows disputes to be referred for adjudication where public interest or industrial stability is at stake.

Penalties under the Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal explains the penalties for violations:

- Illegal strikes or lockouts: Workmen or employers engaging in such actions may face fines and imprisonment.
- Failure to implement awards or settlements: Employers can be fined or prosecuted if they do not carry out tribunal awards.
- Unfair labour practices: Both employers and workmen can be penalised for practices such as victimisation, coercion, or refusal to bargain in good faith.
- General contraventions: Breach of the Act or rules may attract imprisonment up to six months and fines.

Compliance Perspective in the Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation PDF

The Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF highlights that compliance is not only about avoiding penalties but also about maintaining a stable workforce. Employers who comply with the law are less likely to face unrest, litigation, or loss of reputation. For employees, enforcement ensures that rights to compensation, retrenchment benefits, and fair dispute resolution are safeguarded.

Importance in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Key Provisions Summary

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary underlines that penalties and enforcement provisions are necessary to ensure that industrial relations remain balanced. They provide accountability, discourage unlawful practices, and ensure that the spirit of the Act — promoting industrial peace and protecting workmen's rights — is not undermined.

Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 in Relation to Other Labour Laws (Bare Act PDF)

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 bare act PDF does not operate in isolation. It is one of the central pillars of Indian labour law but functions alongside other statutes that govern wages, working conditions, social security, and industrial relations. Understanding its relationship with these laws is important because employers and employees often fall under multiple legal frameworks simultaneously. The Act primarily deals with dispute resolution and industrial peace, while other labour laws regulate pay, safety, welfare, and trade union rights. Together, they form an interconnected system aimed at balancing growth with social justice.

Relation with the Trade Unions Act in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Executive Summary PDF

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 executive summary PDF explains that while the Trade Unions Act, 1926 provides for the registration and recognition of unions, the Industrial Disputes Act creates the legal framework for these unions to raise and settle disputes. Without the Trade Unions Act, collective bargaining would lack legitimacy, and without the Industrial Disputes Act, unions would lack structured forums to resolve conflicts.

Overlap with the Factories Act in the Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal

The Industrial Disputes Act PDF Corrida Legal highlights that the Factories Act, 1948 focuses on health, safety, and welfare of workers, whereas the Industrial Disputes Act regulates disputes that arise in the course of employment. While the Factories Act ensures safe working environments, the Industrial Disputes Act ensures that conflicts in those workplaces are addressed legally and fairly.

Connection with the Employees' State Insurance Act and Social Security Code in the Industrial Disputes Settlement and Conciliation PDF

The Industrial Disputes settlement and conciliation PDF shows the link with the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 and the Social Security Code, 2020. While ESI and the Social Security Code focus on providing medical and financial benefits to workers, the Industrial Disputes Act ensures that disputes over such benefits or employment terms are resolved within a legal structure.

Integration with the Industrial Relations Code in the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 Key Provisions Summary

The Industrial Disputes Act 1947 key provisions summary notes that the Industrial Relations Code, 2020 consolidates and modernises many aspects of industrial law, including dispute resolution mechanisms from the Industrial Disputes Act. Conclusion – Importance of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Key Provisions Summary)

The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 key provisions summary shows why this statute has remained the backbone of industrial relations in India for over seven decades. Enacted in the immediate aftermath of independence, the law was a response to rising labour unrest and the urgent need to promote industrial peace. By providing mechanisms for conciliation, adjudication, and voluntary settlement, the Act ensured that disputes could be resolved through structured processes rather than prolonged strikes or lockouts.

For employees, the Act guarantees protection against arbitrary retrenchment, ensures compensation in cases of lay-offs and closures, and provides avenues for raising grievances before impartial forums. For employers, it establishes legal certainty in managing workforce disputes, making restructuring possible within a framework of fairness. For the government, it serves as a tool to maintain economic stability and prevent industrial disruptions that could harm public interest.

Over time, judicial pronouncements have expanded the scope of the Act, interpreting “industry” and “workman” broadly and ensuring that even vulnerable categories of workers benefit from its protection. Amendments and labour reforms, including the consolidation into the Industrial Relations Code, 2020, continue to draw from the principles laid down in this Act, proving its enduring relevance.
